
Graham is earthside! YIPPY!

Hi Everyone,

Well, My new son, Graham James, is earthside! He was 11 days late and ended up being born after a...are you ready? 45 min. labor! My midwife never even made it to the house in time and my husband and doula ended up catching him before I even stepped foot in the tub! I contribute my easy birth to high raw 80% of my pregnancy, although I hear different stories for everyone.

Graham is almost 3 months now as he was born on Jan 4th. and is doing amazing. My other son, Merrick, who is 4 is still nursing occasionally and is a great big brother. Merrick can't wait to share a green smoothie with his little bro! We're a big happy AP, co-sleepin family and I'm looking forward to reading Shazzies book, I hear its pretty darn good.

I'm already thinking up neat raw foods to have as Grahams first food when he is ready and I'm sure there are some great ideas in the book as well.

Any ideas are welcome
